PROGRESS OF INVENTION - The constant machanical improvements of the day are calculated to inspire a reasonable degree of wonder. The many useful applications of the metals have marked an era in the household, upon the farm and in the pleasure grounds and residences of the wealthy. Iron, in its various forms has been successfully applied to the most unlikely objects, and its utility is continually augmenting. In its malleable form, it is one of the most useful articles for household use. For Bedsteads it is remarkably well adapted, owing to its properties of lightness and portability, cleanliness, ornament and cheapness. The manufacture of Farm Fences and Enclosures for Cemeteries or Pleasuregrounds, under the recently patented process of weaving in iron-wire, has been brought to high perfection. We have lately seen some fine specimens of iron balconies and verandahs from the extensive manufactory of Mr. John B. Wickersham in this City, which, we were assured, could be woves to any desired pattern with great accuracy and rapid-ty. Different styles of Fences and Enclosures are formed in a similar manner, and are furnished, with numerous taste ol designs, with far greater cheapness than in the use of cast-iron. The warehouse of the proprietor has been established, for the greater convenience of his customers, at the Rooms of the Patent Merchandise Company, No. 240 Broatway, where a full assortment of these various fabrics may be found. The success which has attended this introduction of Wrought-Iron is a convincing proof of its superfority. With the promise which it gives us of the renewal of the Iron Age, we may find a combination of the Golden, when utility, durability and profit shall be the leading characteristics of our day, and our pleasures and processities be so intimately connected that their na-ture shall be synonymous. Let us greet the advent of im-

ANOTHER MURDER IN THE VICINITY OF THE FIRE POINTS -About 15 o'clock yesterday morning, a party of three men went into the porter and eating cells: of George Rickerts, corner of Chatham and Orange sts, and saked for refreshments, but were told by the propri-etor that it was his closing hour, and that he could not fur nish them with anything. They then commenced pushing each other about, and, upon being requested to leave, took no notice of the request, but continued their sky-larking, and the proprietor and his bar-keeper, Chas. Beckmaur, undertook to put them out. They succeeded, but one of them, named Michael Mulvey, again rushed into the boase Beckmann, the barkeeper, then took hold of and carried him out again into the street. He then returned and shut the door. Two other persons at the moment came in, and while the door. Two other persons at the moment came in, and while the door. The Jenny Lind Troupe. From a letter written at the Burnett House, incinnati, to the Cleveland Plain Dealer, we make an interesting extract :

Cincinnati, to the Cleveland Plann Dealer, we make an interesting extract:

I have emsconced myself here at the headquatters of the Jenny Lind troupe, and as you will see am no idle observer. A person at the desiance of Gleveland, can have but little idea of the costiliorar, magnitude and magnificance of this show. Its like was never before seen. There are fortly stiendants now under pay—one of them receives one thousand dollars per night; two, one thousand dollars per week: swerst, one hundred dollars per day; and all expenses paid. This makes an aggregate of shout three thousand dollars per day, and all expenses paid. This makes an aggregate of shout three thousand dollars per day, on an average, whether singing, travelry, or doing nothing. Who, beside Baronin, would undertake such a risk, and what show in the world beside this, would muse it pay. But the wonder as to the expense is nothing when compared to the mysiciles of the enformous income. We speak to card, when we say, that the gross receipts from the delets already sold here are a trifle over sixty thousand dollars, it is a otscouraging fact to us dimessable by the concern, shout twenty thousand dollars per week. This we get from "one who knows." He has constant applications for this morey, which he loans freely, but accurately find the down moves of the more day, we know.

I have spent mest of the morning with Baroum and his

A second dog was treated in exactly the same manner, and four or live grampes of an outcomet composed of some rammes of an cintment composed of equal parts i oxide of sinc and lard, was rubbed in every sy ten, twenty, thirty days passed, and although the ointment was applied every twenty four hours, on The experiment was stopped when about paramnes of the ointment had been used. For To grammes of the ontiment and a sent action to the days afterwards the dog was allowed to remain untouched, after which he was submitted to the action of an ointment composed of equal parts of white lead and lard used in the same proportions as the submate of lead and oxide of zinc. As the expiration of ten days the dog sickened and refused his food; gradually all the symptoms of poisoning appeared and the animal died on the twenty third day, sixty grammes of the carbon-ste of lead having been used.

These experiments incontestibly prove that the compounds of zinc do not exert any pernicious in-fluence on the animal economy, and that the sul-phate and carbonate of lead are both injurious. [Scientific American.

Buspected Murder.

Our community is much excited by reports of the horrible murder of a Mr. Pease, late of Pousdam, in is county.

While we would say nothing to prejudice a propertrial file woman accused of deep crime, so many inquiries te made by our cuttrens that we feel obliged to state the left in partially, from most reliable information windnour

The deceased, a farmer of very respectable connection

This wretched woman some years since, came to Canton with her first husband, a Mr. France, an invalid positioner of the United States for disabilities in the Florida war, where he served as soriest. They went from Jefferson Costony to Canton. Her husband, France, about four years since, died under singular circumstances, but we believe no suspicion existed of un natural ceath, until the present immensable development.

It appears that the deceased and the woman accused, It appears hat the decased and the woman accused, travered some days in Canada, moder the assumed names of Mr and Mrs. Freeman. At Kingston, the woman purchased five grains of the winnest points, called strychaste, about tweive miles obset of Kingston. Mr. Pease was casen sick, the woman nursing him, and suddenly ded. He was liberred, and the woman sold his horse and resringe for less than half its value. She also deposited with a broken to Kingston $600, to be sent to the Cydenshurgh Sans, to the credit of a young man working her term in Canoos. Circomatances sitending the death of Mr. Pease, and the deposition of his property is duried the suspicion that Pease had died of poteon purposely administered. The miserable woman is now in just at Kingston, awaiting the trial for nursier. Unless some explanation of the terrible chain of circumstances surrounding her can speedily be made, her earthy doom is certain.

SECOND BOARD.

There was considerable activity in the Fancies to-day, but the top quotations of yesterday were not generally sustained. The sales of Eric were large, but nostly on time, and the market closed at 49, a decline of 1 P cent from yesterday's price. The contest between the Bulls and Bears in this stock is very warm. Harlem was Morris were heavy; Norwith improved & ot. Mohawk was in demand, and improved if the cent; Madison at Erie securities continue to be buoyant. At the Second are now higher than incomes, and the conversion of the latter into the former has already commenced. Some stock advanced i & cent. Government and State stocks were all in demand and stoady. Governments, 1887, im-

In Exchanges the market is quiet, but without change. Sterling to 104 w 104: France, 5.10 $5.084. The supply of bills is fair.

There is no change to note in the Money mar Let. The supply of capital is abundant, and loans are made at 526 P cent on good collaterals. First-class paper is not plenty, and goes at 6 27 % cent.

We regret to learn that Mr. J. I. Fisk has been obliged, through ill health, to retire from the Presidency of the Bank of North America. It was hoped that his visit to the West Indies would have given him strength to perform fill the vacancy. Mr. Havemeyer will secure the fullest confidence of the public to any Institution with which he s connected, and the Bank has been extremely fortunate n securing his services.

If the amount of coin brought into the country by immigrants be added, the excess probably of imports will not be less than eight millions. The gold in the counry has also been increased very largely by receipts at New-Orleans; probably five millions, from which point the exports have been quite small. The amount for April a-
